ual: university of the arts
london

University of the Arts London (UAL) offers an extensive range of courses in art, design, fashion, communication and performing arts. Graduates go on to work in and shape the creative industries worldwide. UAL is ranked second in the world for Art and Design in the 2021 QS World University Rankings by Subject®.

The University has a world-class reputation and is made up of six equally renowned Colleges and three institutes: Camberwell College of Arts, Central Saint Martins, Chelsea College of Arts, London College of Communication, London College of Fashion, Wimbledon College of Arts, UAL Creative Computing Institute, UAL Social Design Institute and UAL Decolonising Arts Institute.

develop conceptual and critical consciousness

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Fine Art course, validated by the world-renowned University of the Arts London (UAL), is a three-year course that will prepare students with the knowledge and skills required to lead the local and regional arts scene as a holistic, reflective and engaged art practitioner.

The course aims to develop the students' ability to work collaboratively and independently around transdisciplinary and collective art practices that are supported by industry partnerships and projects. BA (Hons) Fine Art explores cultural research, distinctively informed by the NAFA spirit of adventure, exploration, and resilience.

Students will be immersed in a studio environment that supports creative experimentations across varied techniques that are essential to a Fine Art practice, from traditional mediums to contemporary approaches. Students will engage themselves in the UK as part of the international placement at UAL, and hold an Internship or Residency placement in their second year.

distinctive features

Practice-Led and Industry-Focused Curriculum

Development of relevant Fine Art approaches, knowledge, methodologies, techniques and skills, informed by contemporary context and industry insights in a realisation of an independent and engaged Fine Art practice.

The UAL-NAFA Partnership

The UAL-NAFA partnership is the first for the University of Arts London, ranked first in art and design undergraduate programmes according to the 2021 QS World University Rankings. It is Europe's largest specialist art and design university, with over 19,000 students from more than 130 countries. This partnership marks the first time that the University is offering validated programmes outside the UK.

Promote global awareness, multi-cultural integrations and collaborations

Cultivation of global awareness and multi-cultural integration through the immersion in diverse cultural capitals with opportunities to experience international art practices.

International Placement at UAL

The proposed course will offer students the opportunity to spend seven weeks on an international placement in London. Students will benefit from the immersion in a lively cultural capital with opportunities to experience diverse art practices. They will experience classes and workshops co-taught by faculty from both institutions, stimulating multi-cultural integration and collaboration.

The NAFA Spirit and the Southeast Asian Arts Dimension

Engagement in Southeast Asian art to drive research inquiries, to raise critical discourse and open new perspectives that will broaden and contribute to artistic and cultural research around the region.

Extended Learning and Discursive Knowledge

Fostering experimental and independent learning through the Fine Art Ateliers and engaging in expanded and discursive knowledge in contemporary art practices through the student-led digital space Living Archive of Contemporary Southeast Asian Art.

Interdisciplinary and Transdisciplinary Learning

Examination of issues from different disciplinary perspectives and the opportunity to challenge as well as integrate ideas and skills into original and cohesive responses.

Central Location within Singapore's Arts and Heritage District

The NAFA campus is located in the city centre and within close proximity and walking distance to the Singapore Art Museum, Objectifs - Centre for Photography and Film, Centre 42, various art institutions, museums and galleries. This vibrant district is a catalyst for discourse, dialogue, teaching and learning of the arts.
